

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

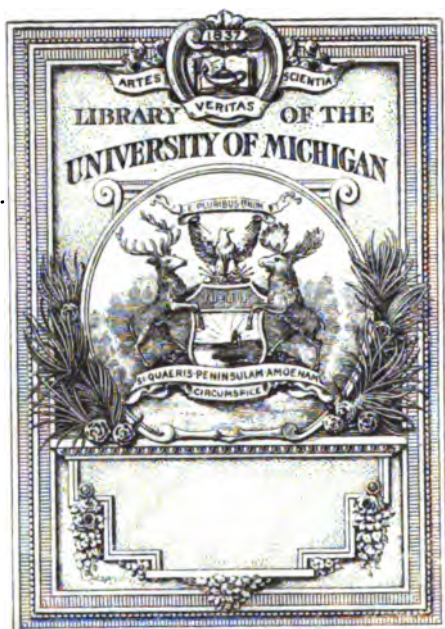

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

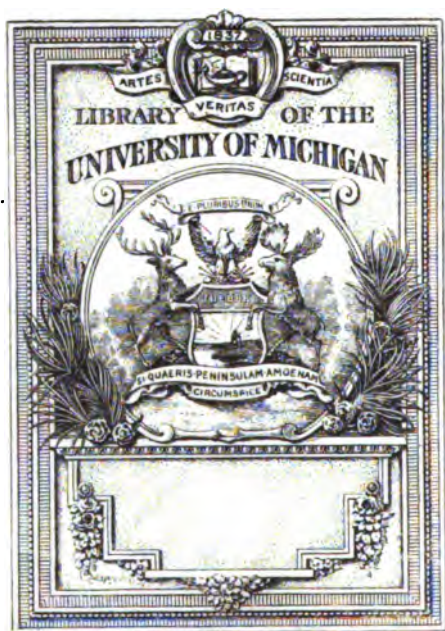

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

BOOK-PRICES CURRENT,

VOLUMES I. TO XIV.

Being a Record of the Prices at which Books have been sold at Auction during the years 1887 to 1900, with the Titles and Descriptions of the Books in full, the Catalogue Numbers, and the Names of the Purchasers.

Some of the earlier volumes are out of print and others are at a premium. Reports will be made by the publisher in answer to queries.

Opinions of the Press.

"We acknowledge, with much pleasure, that 'Book-Prices Current' is now the most carefully edited work of its kind published in this or any other country."—Athenæum.

"'Book-Prices Current'—the Whitaker's Almanack of book-buyers and booksellers."—Illustrated London News.

"A very useful and admirably edited and printed publication."—Morning Post.

"To praise 'Book-Prices Current' is unnecessary; it has become indispensable to book collectors, and of vital interest to all who care for literature."—Globe.

"Brunet, indeed, so long the book-buyer's chief delight, must yield to 'Book-Prices Current.'"—Notes and Queries.

"It is beyond comparison the book-collector's cyclopædia. Its own earlier volumes, curiously enough, command very high prices."—Daily Chronicle.

"The practical utility to buyers and sellers of an authoritative annual work of reference like this requires no demonstration. . . . The knowledge and skill displayed in this compilation merit cordial recognition."—Standard.

"To all classes of bookmen, the issues of 'Book-Prices Current' may be fairly pronounced indispensable."—Literary World.

"It may be said without exaggeration that the annual volumes of Mr. Slater's admirable compilation are indispensable to such as desire to follow with any closeness the record of sales and the movements of the second-hand book market."—Times.

"The work supplies a finely printed record which will be valued, not by the bookseller merely, but by the collector and librarian."—Daily Telegraph.

"The book collector's Bible."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"The record is extremely useful for buyers and collectors of books, and is a valuable index to current phases of book-collecting, and to fluctuations in the market."—Saturday Review.

"If money, as Anthony Trollope neatly put it, be the reward of labour, too much is certainly not asked for the labour which has 'marshalled into order a manuscript involving 33,000 distinct titles and considerably over 500,000 numerals.' The typographical arrangement of the volume will receive praise from those who can understand the difficulties of the printers' task."—The Guardian.

"The 'Index' will be of great value to all who possess or have access to the annual volumes, and it is issued uniform with them."—The Westminster Gazette.

"No well-conducted library should be without this useful and praiseworthy adminicle of order."—The Scotsman.

"Supplies to a considerable extent the vacuum caused by the want of an up-to-date 'Lowndes.'"—The Bookseller.

"A work of independent and undoubted value, and should be in the hands of every bibliographer."—The Clique.

"We cordially recognise the value of Mr. Jaggard's compilation, which is much more than a mere mechanical amalgamation of the ten annual indexes."—The Athenæum.

INTRODUCTION.

THOUGH the present volume of BOOK-PRICES CURRENT does not contain so many entries as the preceding one, it is, nevertheless, rather more bulky. This is due to the fact that a large number of rare books of an unusual kind came into the auction rooms, especially during the months of June and July, and books of this class cannot be dismissed in a few lines. On the contrary, they monopolise more space than they would do had they been at all likely to re-appear at an early date. A considerable number of books in this volume have never been seen in the auction rooms since BOOK-PRICES CURRENT was started, and, in all probability, many of them will not be seen again for some years. On the whole, this fifteenth volume may be quoted hereafter as containing a large proportion of books which, to use a popular phrase, "no one ever heard of before." In other words, many of these books are not generally known, and had to be described more fully, perhaps, than the importance of some of them would warrant. That they should make their appearance in such numbers would be surprising but for the belief that, in all probability, they have been kept back from the previous season or seasons. The season 1899-1900 was very bad, as may be judged from the figures—38,151 lots realising but £87,929. This volume shows 38,377 lots, and the total amount realised was £130,275 9s.—the largest total with which, so far, I have had to deal. The average sum realised per lot is thus £3 7s. 10d.—the highest on record. This shows that the value of books of an important kind is still rapidly advancing, and that money is of comparatively no importance so far as they are concerned. The season has witnessed the payment of such sums as £1,720 for the first folio of Shakespeare's Plays, £1,550 for Caxton's "Ryall Book," and £1,475 for a copy of the original edition of Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," containing a portrait of the author, which some people think appeared in a few copies of the book when it was first published. Whether it did or not is a matter of pure speculation, and the amount paid, especially when contrasted with that realised for the Caxton, can only be described as fanciful in the extreme.

There are not many changes to chronicle. The original editions of Mr. Kipling's various stories are now neglected; the Dickens-Thackeray-Cruikshank collectors still sleep; the Badminton books have fallen away; and the works from the Kelmscott Press are apparently resting, all except the Chaucer, which has now advanced to eighty-three pounds. Speaking generally, however, old books are in the greatest demand, and the best among them have, naturally enough, advanced in price. They are aided in this respect by the new century which, in imagination, has suddenly aged them by a hundred years.

HAMPSTEAD BINDERY.

1632A [The collection of modern bindings sold by Messrs. Sotheby on the above-mentioned date was recently exhibited at the Paris Exhibition, where it obtained the award of a silver medal. This recognition was doubtless deserved, though whether, as claimed in the preface to the illustrated catalogue issued by the "Hampstead Binderies," the exhibits were sufficiently good to challenge comparison with the production of English binding of the highest repute of the present day is a matter of opinion quite outside the province of BOOK-PRICES CURRENT to discuss. The catalogue, which was very tastefully produced, contained 100 entries, realising a total amount of £720 10s. 6d. A copy of the "Recuyell of the Historyes of Troye," Kelmscott Press, 1892, in mediæval morocco, joints, uncut, t. e. g., embossed with a design including figures of Paris and Helen and Hector's body dragged at the car of Achilles (copied from Flaxman's illustrations of the Iliad), realised £13 15s.; a series of 14 Punch's Pocket Books, 1868-81, cut calf, each with a humorous design made up from several of the illustrations, £18; the "Pickwick Papers," Victoria Edition, 2 vol., enlarged to 4 vol., extra illustrated, green morocco, uncut, t. e. g., having on each of the eight covers a figure of one of the Pickwickians, etc., inlaid in coloured leathers, and a separate coloured inlay of a post-horn, a whip, fishing rod, a bow, Mr. Pickwick's hat, boots, spectacles, etc., adapted from the original green wrappers, £40; Mr. Lang's "Prince Charles Edward," 4to., 1900, Japanese paper, with double set of the plates, scarlet morocco, uncut, t. e. g., on both sides a wide inlaid border of the Stuart Tartan, with the Prince of Wales's badge and initials C. P., in gold on a background of inlaid thistles, £23 10s. ; Walton's "Angler," 2 vol., 1836, imperial 8vo., with a duplicate set of the plates, one artist's proofs before letters, India paper, green morocco, t. e. g., the sides and back inlaid with figures of fish, water-lilies, the setting sun and birds, doublé, £40 ; Skelton's Charles First, Japanese vellum, 1898, 4to., cream-coloured morocco, uncut, t. e. g., with symbolic design and 40 inlaid flowers in red, white and green, and 60 inlaid roses on the back, £23 5s. ; Shelley's "Lyrical Poems," 1893, Vale Press, green morocco, uncut, t. e. g., with a floral design on both sides, the whole representing a cluster of jewels produced by 300 separate pieces of leather in seven colours, £18. Thus, the seven works above-named produced £176 10s., the remaining 93 realising £544, or an average of £5 17s. each.—ED.]

[2471 During the present month (January, 1901) the splendid manuscript of the "Evangelia Quatuor," which for more than sixty years has been in the possession of the Earls of Ashburnham, was sold by private treaty through Messrs. Sotheby for £10,000. For many centuries this MS. belonged to the Abbey of Noble Canonesses on the Lake of Constance. On the dissolution of that institution in 1803, the book, after changing hands once or twice, came into the possession of the late Earl of Ashburnham. Its binding is of the most sumptuous character, the upper cover being studded with 327 emeralds, sapphires, carbuncles, pearls and other precious stones, while the lower one displays a croix patée formed of mosaic enamels set with 35 gems. This is one of the finest specimens of its kind in the world, and much regret has been expressed that the authorities of the British Museum were not in a position to acquire it, and so prevent its removal from the country.—ED.]

[This interesting relic of John Milton bears his signature thus: "John Milton, Feb 24: 1654," on a piece of rough paper, measuring $3\frac{1}{2}$ by $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches, pasted inside the front cover. Underneath this are written the names of "William Minshull, Nantwich" (a relation of Milton's third wife), "Thos. Matthews, Middlewich;" on first fly-leaf, "Mary Matthews, Middlewich," "Eliz. Mingham;" on second fly-leaf, "J. Mathews;" at the top of title of the New Testament is the signature, "Elizabeth Milton, 1664" (Milton's third wife); on the last leaf (imprint) are the names "L. Matthews," "Wm. Minshull," "Eliz. Mingham, 1730;" on fly-leaves at end, "Elizabeth Minshull" (afterwards Milton's third wife), and the following note: "Dec. ye 27, 1714, I gave this Book to my mother, the widow Mathews, but if she dyes before me, I desire that it should be Return to me againe. Wm. Matthews." There are also two other signatures of the Mathews family, and a pedigree of several of them. Milton's widow (formerly Elizabeth Minshull) retired to Nantwich, where her family lived, and died in 1727. An extract from Col. Chester's Marriage Licences (1521-1869) says: "which day (11 Feb. 1662-3, p'rsonally appeared John Milton, of ye parish of St. Giles, Cripplegate, aged about 50 yeares, widdower, and alledged that he intended to marry with Elizabeth Minshull, of ye parish of St. Andrew, Holborne, mayden, aged

- about 25 years, and at her owne disposing . . .” The following extracts may also be quoted from Prof. Masson’s “Life of Milton” (being vol. i. of the Poetical Works) under the heading: Specimens of Milton’s Signatures. The first signature mentioned occurs in the Graduation Book of the University of Cambridge, 1628-9; he was then 21 years of age. The next is found in the Phenomena and Diomeia of Aratus, Paris, 1559. Then follow facsimiles of six other accredited signatures, the last mentioned being affixed to his application, on the 11th of February, 1662-3, for a licence for his marriage with his third wife, Elizabeth Minshull. This is Milton’s own hand in the eleventh year of his blindness, the fifty-fifth year of his age, when he was living in Jewin Street, and had advanced a good way in the dictation of his “Paradise Lost.” This undoubtedly genuine autograph of John Milton adds another to the eight signatures chronicled by Prof. Masson.—Catalogue.

[These two translations were evidently intended to be embodied in the Pickering Calderon of 1853. In the preface to the latter, he says: "Such plays as the Magico Prodigioso and the Vida es Sueño (I cannot rank the Principe Constante among them), require another translator and another form of translation." It was consequently not published, and this is one of the few copies the author had sewn together for himself; it contains some slight corrections by him. The foregoing two lots were presented by Fitzgerald to his friend Thomas Churchyard, of Woodbridge, and they subsequently passed into the hands of his daughter Ellen Churchyard, also a friend of Fitzgerald.—Catalogue.]

[The first edition. Lamb's "Poetry for Children" was published by Godwin at the Juvenile Library in 1809, but was not re-issued, as this volume (which may be considered a second edition of that excessively rare book) took its place. The volume, which is of great rarity (from the imprint, probably very few copies were printed), contains thirteen pieces by Charles and one by Mary Lamb, all, with the exception of two by the former, apparently inedited. Most of the productions by Lamb himself are signed "R. et R.," a fictitious subscription of which there is no doubt, as the poem called the "Three Graves," well known to be Lamb's, bears it here. A sonnet, headed "St. Crispin to Mr. Gifford," was not included in the editions by reason of its severity of allusion. It commences:

"All unadvised and in an evil hour,

Lured by aspiring thoughts, my son, you daft

The lowly labours of the Gentle Craft . . ."—Catalogue.]

 [This literary impostor was born in France in 1679, and received an excellent education. He commenced his career by leading a wandering life, and assumed the habit of a pilgrim; but, this not answering his purpose, he pretended to be a native of Formosa, and to keep up the delusion he invented a new alphabet and a grammar of the Formosa tongue. At this time he became acquainted with a clergyman named Innes, who persuaded him to pretend to be converted to the Church of England, Innes getting promotion for his zeal. Psalmanazar translated the Church Catechism into his newly-invented Formosa language; and he published a History of Formosa, which passed muster as authentic for a long time. He afterwards wrote for booksellers, and a large portion of the "University History" was his work, and he left behind him his own Memoirs; died 1763. "So in our Halcyon dayes, we have had now
Wits, to which, all that after come, must bow,
And should the Stage compose her selfe a Crowne
Of all those wits, which hitherto sh'as knowne :
Though there be many that about her brow
Like sparkling stones, might a quick lustre throw :
Yet Shakespeare, Beaumont, Johnson, these three shall Make up the Jem in the point Verticall.
And now since Johnsons gone, we well may say,
The Stage hath seene her glory and decay." (Pages 42, 43.)

SOTHEYBY, WILKINSON & HODGE.

5079 [On this date Messrs. Sotheby sold nineteen illuminated manuscripts described as being the property of a "well-known collector." The principal item was a very fine manuscript of Josephus, written by a French scribe on 315 vellum leaves, double columns of 36 lines, with rubrics. A miniature of Josephus as an initial was on the first page, and the work contained 153 very delicately painted and illuminated initials and many hundred smaller ones, as well as 13 very large miniatures measuring $8\frac{1}{2}$ by 7 inches, each being remarkable for fine colouring and brilliant illumination. This folio, which was once in Lord Ashburnham's Library (No. cxlv.), was bought by Mr. Quaritch for £955. A fifteenth century Horæ, exquisitely written on 268 leaves of vellum by a French scribe and containing nearly 100 miniatures, realised £730. This was a very fine example of the French art of the latter part of the fifteenth century. Among the larger pictures worthy of particular mention was that on page 38, where the lady for whom the book was made is represented, attired in a costume of the period; also the illumination of the funeral service, the scene of which is laid in the Cimetière des Innocents in Paris; and among the Saints' Offices that to Saint Geneviève, with a contemporary picture of the Ile de Paris, where the towers of Notre Dame, the spire of the Sainte Chapelle and the turrets of the Royal Palace are vividly represented. An old MS. description suggests that the MS. was done for Charles VII. of France about 1430. These were the two most costly manuscripts in the collection, which realised a total sum of £3,055 10s.]

- 5356 Bible (Holy). The English Translation of John Wycliffe and his followers, a very fine manuscript on vellum (269 leaves), double columns, 52 lines to a page, in bold English black letter, size 15¼ by 10¾ inches, 32 of the pages richly illuminated with ornamental and floriated capitals and borders, chiefly of spiked foliage, in burnished gold and colours, ornamental pen letters throughout, the work of an English scribe about 1410, the MS. in excellent preservation and perfect (a few of the illuminations have suffered from damp which has caused them to set off a little on the opposite pages) and entirely legible throughout, stout oak boards, probably the original covers, recovered in crimson velvet, with gilt leather centre-pieces, coloured coat-of-arms in which can be recognised a goat as a crest, brass corner bosses and holdfasts for clasps, enclosed in a carved oak case with glass top, circa 1410, folio (42) Sotheran, £1,200
[The MS. commences with "Here begynney a reule yt telleth in whate chapters of ye bible ye may finde all ye pistles & ye gospels in al ye yer aft' Salisby us," supplemented by a long list of texts to be used on the days for the celebration of upwards of 150 saints, many of them particular to the English calendar, headed "Here endey ye reule of ye tempal. And now begyney ye reule of ppur saints and common." On 16 pages. Followed by the Old Testament commencing with "Here bigynnen ye pablis of salomon" to the end of "Macchabes"; together with the whole of the New Testament, comprising the four Gospels, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, and the Epistles and Apocalypse, each book being introduced by a translation of the prologues of Saint Jerome. The version of the New Testament in the present volume is known to have been almost entirely Wycliffe's own translation, but there is considerable uncertainty as to the portions of the Old Testament which were translated by him or by his coadjutors. The present text does not greatly vary from the complete version finally compiled by John Purvey in 1388, and it collates exactly with the "Later version" as reprinted from the Royal MS. in the British Museum, and published by Sir Frederick Madden and the Rev. Josiah Forshael in their work on the Wycliffe Bible (Oxford, 1850, 2 vol.) There are, however, a great many minor variations in spelling which go to shew that this MS. was executed in the Midlands, as many of the words are spelled with the characteristics of the dialect in vogue at the period in this district. Before the year 1360 "The Psalter" appears to have been the only book of Scripture which had been entirely translated into Middle English. For the invaluable gift to England of a translation of the Bible into the language of the people we are indebted to John Wycliffe, who has been described as the "Father of English Prose," as Chaucer was spoken of as the "Father of English Verse." The order of the books contained in the volume is as follows: Parablis (Proverbs) of Salomon, Ecclesiastes, Song of Songs, Book of Wisdom (called "Sapiencie" in headlines), Ecclesiasticus, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Lamentations, Ezechiel, Daniel, Hosea, Joel, Amos, Obadiah, Jonah, Micah, Nahum, Habakkuk, Zephaniah, Haggei, Zachariah, Maccabeus (Books I.-II.), Matthew, Mark, Luke, John, Romans, Corinthians I.-II., Galatians, Ephesians, Phillipians, Colossians, Thessalonians I.-II., Timothy I.-II., Titus, Hebrews, Acts of the Apostles, James, Peter I.-II., John I.-III., Jude and Apocalypse (2 leaves in the latter torn).—Catalogue.]

The Byble in English, that is to say, the Contente of all the holy Scripture . . . accordyng to the translaciō that is appointed to be read in Churches, black letter, woodcut titles, no title to the Psalms (according to Lowndes there apparently was none), first leaf of the Apocrypha supplied in old MS., small corner of A3 (New Testament) defective and N5 torn, and the fore-edges of the last few leaves slightly frayed, otherwise perfect, sheepskin, with brass clasps, corners and centre studs, r. e., Edwarde Whit-churche, 1553, folio (45) Bull, £7 15s.

[The very rare small 8vo. edition, which is believed to have been printed before the quarto copy, which is usually described as the first edition. Copies have sold at Sotheby's for £16 5s., £25, £22 and £21.—Catalogue. There are three distinct issues of this 12mo. edition, the wording of the title-page being identical in all. The first issue may be identified by the misprint in line 37 of the poem, which reads—

"Amidst thy bowers the tyrant's head is seen."
In the later issues and all later editions this line is corrected thus—

"Amidst thy bowers the tyrant's hand is seen."

There is very little doubt that this small 8vo. edition preceded the first 4to. edition of 1770, as several words were changed in the second 4to., e.g., line 67, "luxury" to "opulence"; line 101, "blest is he" to "happy he"; line 111, "sinks" to "bends"; and line 184, "ready" to "steady"; and not one of these and other alterations appears in the 8vo. Six quarto editions were published by Griffin in 1770, but they all (except the first) bear a statement as to the edition to which they belong, and cannot therefore be confounded. The above-named book (which had been cleaned) belonged to the first issue ("tyrant's head"), and is collated as follows: Half title, title, dedication to Sir Joshua Reynolds (v.-vi.), and text pp. 8-24.—ED.]

SOTHEY, WILKINSON & HODGE.

A FURTHER PORTION OF THE COLLECTION OF MANUSCRIPTS
(KNOWN AS THE BARROIS COLLECTION) MADE BY THE LATE
EARL OF ASHBURNHAM.

6100 [In the 13th volume of BOOK-PRICES CURRENT, page 559, will be found a short account of the sale of a very important collection of manuscripts (known as the "Appendix") made by Bertram, fourth Earl of Ashburnham, who died in 1878. The same Earl had purchased en bloc in 1849 from M. Paul Barrois, Deputy for Lille, before the Revolution of 1848, another important collection, consisting of 702 MSS., chiefly of French origin, and it was this collection, or rather the greater part of it, that was now disposed of by Messrs. Sothey. Of the 702 manuscripts above mentioned, 74 were handed over in 1888 to M. Delisle, chief librarian of the Bibliothèque Nationale in Paris, it having been conclusively proved that they belonged of right to that institution. This was effected by arrangement with the present Earl, to whom it was satisfactorily proved that they had been abstracted prior to their acquisition by M. Paul Barrois under circumstances that left no doubt as to who were the rightful owners. It may be mentioned that long prior to these negotiations, viz., in 1848, the entire collection had been offered to the British Museum for £6,000, that the Earl of Ashburnham paid £8,000 for it, and that it now realised by auction the very large sum of £33,217 and some few shillings. No stronger testimony to the increased value of important manuscripts could be advanced than these figures disclose. It is not the practice to report sales of manuscripts in the pages of BOOK-PRICES CURRENT. Reference is occasionally made to exceptionally important specimens, especially to those which have been printed and published, and in that sense form an adjunct to the printed books themselves, but there has never been any attempt to regularly report the sales of collections of manuscripts which are held from time to time. Nor on this occasion would there be any necessity to do so, as Messrs. Sotheby have printed and published a list of the prices realised, and this will, no doubt, be in the hands of all who take an interest in works of the kind. It may, however, be mentioned, as a permanent record of the extremely high prices that are occasionally realised for works of this description, that several of the Barrois MSS. sold for more than £1,000 each, and though some realised very small amounts—less than 20s. each—the average sum obtained per lot was nearly £53, an amount never yet approached by any collection of printed books, however important.

The gem of the Barrois collection was perhaps the "Psalterium Latine," a fourteenth century MS. on vellum, with paintings in the style of Giotto, and probably executed by him at Avignon while he was there with Pope Clement V. This realised £1,530, while "La Vie du vaillant Bertrand du Guesclin," in verse, by Cuvelier, another fourteenth century MS. on vellum, brought £1,500. A second romance, entitled "San Graal et Lancelot du Lac," also of the fourteenth century, on vellum, sold for £1,800; and "La Legende des Sains qui est dite Legende Doree," fifteenth century, on vellum, £1,500. A fifteenth century "Horæ," on vellum, sold for £1,160, and the "Chronique Generale dite de la Bourcachardière," by Jehan de Courcy, fifteenth century, on vellum, £1,420. These were the largest sums realised at this extremely important sale, to which it would be impossible to do full justice without reprinting the greater portion of the very voluminous and descriptive catalogue.—ED.]

"Upon my subsequently confessing myself the sole writer of the MSS. the sale of the folio was stopped by my father, nor had the present octavo edition made its appearance . . . and in order still further to obliterate, as much as possible, every vestige of the Shaksperian production, I further committed to the flames the complete impression of the present reprint, reserving no more than the annexed copy which, as a literary curiosity, consequently ranks unique. At the sale of my father's library the Shaksperian writings were purchased by Mr. Dent, M.P. for the sum of £640, the principal part of which manuscripts I have here re-written and inserted in the accompanying work, placing every written leaf between the corresponding printed pages, having also inlaid the book, in order that it might thus be enlarged and bound up in conformity with the manuscripts as originally produced by me and of which the present are duplicates."—Catalogue.]
